

FROM THE EDITORS

This edition of the journal contains a selection of articles ranging from the practical - ideas on how to adapt materials for use in reading comprehension exercises to the abstract - the concept of autonomy in language learning.

The book review deals with an often neglected area of English teaching - namely, the skill of writing.

We look forward to seeing you at the convention and would like to encourage you to contribute to future issues of the journal.

Sincerely,

Leslie W. Adams

Susan Stephens