

Biodata: Eva Estefania Trujeque-Moreno, Abelardo Romero-Fernández, Alma Selima Esparragoza Barragán, & Carmen Judith Villa Jaimes

Eva Estefania Trujeque-Moreno (MA in English teaching, Benemérita Universidad Autónoma de Puebla [BUAP], Mexico) has been teaching English for fourteen years, researching for eight years and coordinating academic projects for seven years. She is currently affiliated to the Complejo Regional Nororiental BUAP in Teziutlán, Puebla, where she has been involved in ESP, literacy and professional development projects since 2014. Her published work explores the authorship development among Mexican EFL teacher-researchers.

Abelardo Romero-Fernández is a full-time researcher and professor in the Benemérita Universidad Autónoma de Puebla (BUAP). He has two degrees, one in Modern Languages (BUAP) and one in Pedagogy (UNAM). In addition, he has the degree of Master of Higher Education (ULSA). He is currently studying for a Doctorate in Education (ULSA). He has the PRODEP recognition and is a member of the BUAP-354 academic research group. He has participated as a speaker in different national and international events. His research interests include Higher Education, Educational Innovation and Language Teaching and Learning.

Alma Selma Esparragoza Barragán holds a B.A. in Foreign Languages from Benemérita Universidad Autónoma de Puebla. She is a part-time English teacher in Higher Education (BUAP) and has the M.A in Science Education. She is coordinating as well, the English Academy of the Complejo Regional Nororiental (BUAP), her currently workplace. She has carried out research on Language Testing and she is an apprentice researcher in the field of ESP. Her interests are based on Task Based Learning and her academic goal is to direct her classes and education to the higher levels of quality through the most updated ELT methods.

Carmen Judith Villa Jaimes holds a BA in Modern Languages and a Master's in Education Development. She has been an EFL teacher for about 20 years, mainly in higher education. She is currently an English teacher in the Complejo Regional Nororiental in BUAP and President of the local English Academy in CBTIS 44. She has attended ELT training courses in the University of Arkansas, the State University of New York and California State University. Her main professional interests are focused on ESP teaching and ESL Teachers Training for she has given some workshops in national and international conventions in Mexico.

