

Biodata: Sergio Durand

Sergio Durand is head of the languages department at Benemérita Escuela Normal Veracruzana and literature lecturer at Universidad Veracruzana's languages faculty.

Sergio holds degrees in English and French (Universidad Veracruzana), an MA in Humanistic Studies (ITESM) and is completing another MA in TEFL (Universidad de Guadalajara). His main interests are discourse analysis, materials development and social justice in ELT.

He was a British Council/ SEP foreign language assistant in British Colleges and won the 2018 IATEFL Latin America scholarship. He's been a materials writer for projects in Mexico, Brazil and the UK and has spoken at national and international conferences.