

Biodata: Einas Bashir Albadawi

Einas Bashir Albadawi is a PhD student in culture, literacy, and language at the University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA). Einas used to work as an EFL teacher in Syria. After earning her master's degree in teaching ESL from the UTSA, she worked at St. Mary's University. Her research interests include language learning and the integration of refugees and newcomers into the U.S. school system.